

Elector: Alex Malihoudis

The first British player to ever win medals in two different European Championship events, Alex Malihoudis was not only a regular fixture domestically at the top of many offensive categories in the 1990s and the first decade of the 2000s but was also a trailblazer as a British player willing to go to the US to develop his craft.